Technology, History and A Connection to the Holocaust

By Jeff Olson

April, 2003

In the fall of 2002, my family was enjoying the Jewish celebration of Simchat Torah at our small congregation, Temple Sinai, in Saratoga Springs, New York. As my daughter danced with one of the Torah scrolls, I asked our rabbi if that was the scroll which we had been told came from Czechoslovakia after the Holocaust. The rabbi said yes, and showed us where the scroll had been marked by the Nazis, and where a small brass tag (No. 1384) had been placed by the Memorial Scrolls Trust in London. I then asked the rabbi if we knew anything about the story of this scroll. The rabbi said we knew very little, but that in the early 1990's a bar mitzvah student had done a little research and had confirmed that the scroll had come from a small town called Golcuv-Jenicov, in Bohemia, near Prague. The scroll was written in 1890, and had arrived in Saratoga in 1973. I then asked if anyone had tried to use the internet to trace its history. Since nobody had, it seemed like a good idea to volunteer to spend some time on line searching for the origins of the Golcuv-Jenicov scroll. What follows are the results of six months of extraordinary e-mails – a magical connection of technology across history. You are about to read the same messages as I did as I searched for and found that our small community in upstate New York has a very powerful connection to the community of Golcuv-Jenicov in the Czech Republic.

Caretaker with key: Hana Ronovska, Komenskeho 462, 582 82 Golcuv Jenikov.

Earliest known Jewish community in Golcuv Jenikov was 1654, but allegedly is older. 1930 Jewish population was 79. In 1784, the old archives of the congregation were destroyed in a fire. Allegedly, the community's origin is medieval. Peak Jewish population was before the mid-19th century. In 1842, there were 613 persons, about 27% of the total population. In 1842, Sir Moses Montefiore visited the local yeshiva of Rabbi Kornfeld. In the late 19th and early 20th century, people started moving to the bigger towns with last rabbi leaving in 1930. Living here were Rabbi Aron Kornfeld (1795-1881, born and buried there and head of the famous yeshiva); psychologist Siegmund Kornfeld (1859-1927); Judaist Bedrich Thieberger (1888-1958); poet and writer Gertrude Thieberger-Urzidil (1898-1977); poet Oskar Kosta (pseudonym Peter Pont, 1888-1973); and Isaac Mayer Wise (1819-1900, founder of American Reform Judaism, who began studies in the Yeshiva in Golcuv Jenikov in 1835). The landmarked Conservative Jewish cemetery originated in the 17th century. Rabbi Aron Kornfeld (1795-1881), Rabbi Michael Kornfeld (d. 1803) and Rabbi Jakob Jicchak ha-Levi (d. 1806) were all buried there with last known Jewish burial before 1943; the last urn was in 1974. The isolated flat suburban/rural site has no sign or marker. Reached off a public road, access is open with permission via continuous masonry wall and locking gate. The size of cemetery before WWII and now is 0.7336 ha. 100-500 gravestones, all in original location, date from 1706-20th century. The marble, granite and limestone flat shaped stones, finely smoothed and inscribed stones, flat stones with carved relief decoration, double tombstones, multi-stone monuments, and sarcophagus-shaped tombs have Hebrew, German and Czech inscriptions. Some tombstones have portraits on stones and/or metal fences around the graves. Within the limits of the cemetery is a pre-burial house. The cemetery is not divided into special sections. Praha Jewish community owns the property now used as a Jewish cemetery and a garden. Adjacent properties are agricultural. Occasionally, private visitors stop. Local non-Jewish residents and Jewish groups in the Czech Republic cleared vegetation and fixed wall. Praha Jewish congregation pays a regular caretaker. Slight threats facing this cemetery are lack of security, weather erosion, pollution, vandalism, and incompatible nearby existing development. Vegetation overgrowth in the cemetery is a seasonal problem, preventing access.

Dear Mr. Olson--I will post a message on Jewishgen.org, the BOHEMIAN AND MORAVIAN SPECIAL INTEREST GROUP -- it is a newsgrp of those with family from Bohemia and Moravia doing genealogy. Golcuv is not that far from Humpolec --and I do know people from that town. Let me post a message and see what we can find. In the meantime -- do you want some information on the town? I can see what I can find. Hopefully tomorrow I will reach you by phone. It is too late to call this evening. I have also e-mailed this to Beit Terezin in Israel. They keep in touch with those transported through Terezin. They may know of survivors or survivors families. I have also sent your message to Lisa Feder, a board member of the Czech Torah Network and dedicated to an organization that she has started for cemetery preservation in the Czech Republic. She has a website detailing her project. She assists congregations in supporting the restoration of the cemeteries where their scrolls have come from. She is very knowledgeable.

THE CZECH MEMORIAL SCROLLS CENTRE OF LONDON, ENGLAND

"In 1963, with the cooperation of the Czech Government, Eric Estorick, a London art collector, arranged for the acquisition of 1,564 Torah scrolls found in an abandoned synagogue in Prague. These Torahs were a part of the huge collection of Jewish ritual objects confiscated by Hitler to be used in his planned "museum of an extinct race."

The Torah scrolls were once an integral part of the Jewish life of the hundreds of Jewish communities that existed in Bohemia and Moravia before World War II. With the financial help of Ralph Yablon, these scrolls arrived in London to a temporary home in the Westminster Synagogue where The Czech Memorial Scrolls Trust was formed.

Since their arrival in 1964, the Czech Memorial Scrolls Trust has answered requests for Torahs by distributing these scrolls, on permanent loan, to synagogues and religious institutions throughout the world. Each year the numbered racks at Kent House have grown emptier as one scroll after another has been restored to its rightful place in Jewish life."

THE CZECH TORAH NETWORK

"The Czech Torah Network is a Jewish non-profit organization that has been formed to educate congregations and their members about the sacred Czech Torah Scrolls which were taken by the Nazis from Jewish synagogues in Bohemia and Moravia. Hitler rounded up and killed millions of innocent children and adults during World War II. He confiscated all the Jewish ritual items and torah scrolls from the Jewish Communities of Bohemia and Moravia of the country then known as Czechoslovakia.....Today, these Czech torahs, part of this precious legacy, are being used in congregations throughout the world as a source of Jewish spiritual continuity."

Dear Mr. Olson,

Your message regarding your Synagogue's Torah from Golcuv Jenikov was forwarded to me by Susan Boyer. I would be happy to assist you in gathering information, and there is much that we can do, depending on your interests.

I can help to provide you with: historical information about the history of the Jewish community of G.J., the current state of remaining Jewish sites there, including the cemetery and the synagogue, and, if possible, to contact survivors from there (if they exist, they must be registered with the Holocaust Survivors Registry and contact us after receiving a request for third-party contact). It is most-likely possible to also obtain the list of the Jewish residents who were deported from Golcuv Jenikov as well, although the Jewish population in the 1930 census numbered only around 79 persons.

It is very ironic, because I had planned on going to Golcuv Jenikov to photograph the synagogue and cemetery during my last trip to Czech Republic this summer, but I was unable to at the last minute. I work very closely with the section of the Prague Jewish community that directly oversees the care and maintenance of all the Jewish cemeteries and sites in the Prague community's jurisdiction, (181 cemeteries including the one in Golcuv Jenikov), so I can also assist you in gaining information and documentation, and in the great mitzvah of helping to support the care or repair of the cemetery and synagogue if you wish.

Please visit my web-site at your convenience, www.chaiworks.org and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,
Lisa Feder

Dear Mr. Olson,

Thank you very much for your reply and for sending the beautiful photograph of your children in front of the ark. It speaks so poignantly about the Mitzvah of keeping this Torah, and the memory of those who once worshipped with it, in life.

When you have time, Susan and I look forward to hearing more about your ideas. Due to many people being out of the office in Prague until the middle of next week, it will take me a little time to get the most updated information about the synagogue and cemetery, but I look forward to working with you in this effort.

On the Czech Torah Network website, (www.czechtorah.org) and on mine (www.chaiworks.org) you will find information on programs such as the Quest for Kolin and others. Some synagogues "twin" their Bar and Bat Mitzvah students with a child from their Torah's town of origin who was killed without having had the opportunity to become a Bar or Bat Mitzvah. My synagogue has recently sponsored a large clean up of the cemetery in the town from which our Torah originated. The possibilities for meaningful and enriching programming are endless.

I look forward to hearing from you,
Sincerely,
Lisa

I just read your e-mail. I am going to Golcuv Jenikov next week to visit the cemetery there, where I hope to find graves of ancestors of mine. All I know so far is that my 6xgrandmother came from there. Her name was Sara Katz. She was born in Golcuv Jenikof in 1764. She married Elias Pohl in Prague. Sara's father was Filip Katz. This is all I know about my family from Golcuv Jenikof. I am not sure if it helps but I thought I let you know.

I posted a message and found a woman from Prague with family from your torah's town: <Lucie.Friedlaenderova@seznam.cz>

Dear Susan,
my family (FRIEDLAENDER) came from this town. But the last member of this family, who lived there, was my grandfather (*1890) with his brothers and sisters. He moved to Prague (and died in Auschwitz at least). Others of our family, who survived, live mostly in Prague, some of them probably in Brno, some of them escaped to foreign countries ... But maybe I could ask help from our community in Prague. If you could send me still some other information, please, reply.

Hello Mr. Olson, & Group

I have just returned from Golcuv-Jenikov where I spent the morning enquiring about any Jewish families that remain, and it is as I thought. There is not a single Jewish person living in GJ today. The Synagogue and cemetery remain the significant reminders of GJ's Jewish residents. However the people that we spoke with were sympathetic and interested in the fate of GJ's Jewish neighbors who either perished or emigrated.

I wanted to obtain a list of the Jewish people of GJ who perished in the Holocaust but was unable during those few hours to accomplish that. I have the contact information for some people who might be able to provide me with that. I think that might be important to your congregation, and a further link with the GJ Torah's past life.

I have the address of the Golcuv-Jenikov Town Hall/Mayors Office. In the event you would like to reach out to the citizenry of GJ. I believe that there would be a positive response.

The synagogue is 110 years old and is magnificent, we were unable to enter because it is now a repository for Jewish museum. I took some photo's and can forward them to you either by the mail or as attachments to email.

The following is the address for GJ's City/Town Hall Mayors office.

With regard to the e-mail below regarding Isaac Mayer Wise:

I am working with a congregation in Saratoga Springs, NY that is archiving their Holocaust scroll from GOLCUV-JENIKOV. It would be great if you could get in touch with them <trails2k@aol.com> --a Mr. Jeff Olson, as Isaac Mayer Wise, born in Lomnicka in 1819, began studying in Golcuv-Jenikov 1835 in the renowned local Yeshiva of Rabbi Aron Kornfeld -- all this according to Mr. Fiedler's book JEWISH SIGHTS OF BOHEMIA AND MORAVIA pg69. It is possible that is a Torah that Wise once used. I know their congregation would be interested in speaking to you.

My wife, Nancy, a great grand daughter of Rabbi Wise, and I met with Dr. Fiedler this September in Prague. He was kind enough to give us a copy of his paper but it is in Czech. In the article he recounts new evidence of Rabbi Wise's birth date and parentage. The article is less than 9 pages of text with 7 pages of references. Hello Mr. Olson and group.

I met with the former caretaker of the Jewish cemetery in Golcuv=Jenikov yesterday, and he provided me with the list of the names of the members of the Jewish community from GJ who did not return after the Holocaust-WW II.

The information should be cross checked against the information contained in the Terezin Initiative which has more conclusive facts about the final fate, survival or death of the following people. As many are listed as fate unknown.

Concerning the cemetery its earliest headstones are said to be from 1706 or thereabouts and is in better than expected condition. I will send photos of both the synagogue and the cemetery. The most recent burial being from 1984.

...Mr. Singer's list with the list I have in my possession, I found that one name is missing: LUDVIK KORNFELD, B 30.01.1872. Also there is a difference in the Birthdate of EMILIE VRBONA. In Singer's list it is stated 26.06.1869 while in my list is 12.09.1891. There is also a misspelling of one name. There are NAHNADEL and 3 NAHANDEL. The exact spelling is NAEHNADEL, which, by the way, I'm related to.

Also, Mr. Singer wrote that the most recent burial in the G.J. cemetery was in 1984 while I'm, myself, met the last Jew of G.J. in 1990. I know he died a few years later and was buried there.

Jeff and Margo --I am putting a package in the mail to you with a video to return, Michael Kraus's excerpt from the Birkenau Boys and a little more info re: Helen Epstein. Mr. Kraus' excerpt from the B. B. that was edited by my cousin Jon Fruend, also a B. Boy.

In1997 in LA--I attended my first Jewish genealogical convention. A Mr. Michael Honey, now of London, formerly of the CZ. R., traveled to speak and I had the pleasure of joining him for dinner. In conversation he asked the names I was researching and that night we learned that 2 of my relatives had been Birkenau Boys with him and while they were good friends after all that they had shared in the camps--they had never known that they were also cousins to each other and to me. Mr Honey introduced me to both of them.

I also told you of a connection to the author Helen Epstein and included in the mail is a torah essay that relates to the town of Kolin and Helen written by Julie Levin.

You will find that the connections to my cousin will not be the only coincidence that will occur once you involve yourself with your scroll. I can't tell you how many good but strange coincidences have happened since I started all of this.

My friend Peretz Amir Schrecker, he lives in Israel, gave me your e-mail concerning Golcuv Jenikov. I was born in Karlsbad (Karlov Vary) and came to Israel 63 years ago. Many thanks for your welcome and good care. We enjoyed the guided walk through Saratoga Springs on a beautiful afternoon yesterday. Arrived back home around eight. Today there was a holocaust remembrance organized by the Brookline holocaust commission that showed a film of testimonies by "liberators" of various US Army units, rather gruesome footage taken just as the soldiers actually stumbled at various death camps at the end of The War.

Dear Mr. Olson,

My name is Henry Silberstern and I am a friend of Michael Kraus from Boston. As a matter of fact, I am also one of the Birkenau Boys. So much for a brief introduction.

I hope to meet you and of course will fill you in with additional information.

I am very interested in the Torah Scroll from Golcuv-Jenikov. You see, even though I was not born in Golcuv-Jenikov, I have very close ties to that town. My grandfather was born there and both my father and I had "domicile" rights in that town.

I read with high interest the work you did in researching it, as Michael sent me the few pages of e-mail and other copies.

I believe that the scroll is housed at Temple Sinai and I would like to see it.

I have a daughter and family living in Albany (to be exact, in Glenmont) and my wife and I plan on spending Thanksgiving with them. I realize that this is very sudden, but if it is at all possible, I would love to come to Saratoga Springs to Temple Sinai or to Skidmore College itself.

I apologize for this sudden intrusion, but I hope that you will consider my request.

Looking forward to meeting you

Sincerely

Henry Silberstern

Special Guest at Shabbat evening service 8:00 p.m., Friday Nov. 28

This Friday, we will have a special guest at our Shabbat evening service. Mr. Henry Silberstern is a Czech survivor of the Holocaust, who has had a long relationship with the town of Golcuv-Jenikov, the original home of Temple Sinai's Holocaust memorial Torah scroll. Mr.

Silberstern's grandfather and great-grandfather were born in Golcuv-Jenikov, providing his father and himself with domicile rights in that town.

Mr. Silberstern is a friend of survivor Michael Kraus, who spoke at the Yom Hashoa observance at Skidmore College this past spring. (At the time, Michael Kraus was unaware of his friend's connection to Golcuv-Jenikov.) Both Mr. Silberstern and Mr. Kraus were among the group of children known as "the Birkenau Boys", selected by the notorious Dr. Joseph Mengele to live while millions of others died. Only twenty Birkenau Boys survived.

Mr. Silberstern will be coming to Temple Sinai with his wife, daughter and other family members who live in Albany. We look forward to welcoming them to Temple Sinai and to learning from Mr. Silberstern more about the Jewish community of Golcov-Jenikov, whose sacred Torah has been entrusted to us.

This brings us to the end of this chapter in history, made possible by technology that allows us to find answers to some questions and challenges us to think about others. On the following pages you will find the media release announcing the upcoming Yom Hashoah Memorial Service, and a copy of the list of Holocaust victims from Golcuv-Jenikov. Tracing the roots of the Golcuv-Jenikov torah scroll has been an incredible experience. Thank you to everyone who contributed to this search. There is much more to be known, and there are hundreds of other scrolls in communities around the world that have similar stories. May we all have the wisdom to learn from these stories, and to work every day to make the world a better place.

Media Release: Immediate

Subject: Special Ceremony Honors Holocaust Survivors & Victims

Location: Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs NY (Gannett Auditorium)

Monday evening, April 28th 2003, 6:30 – 9:30pm

Contact: Margo Olson, molson@skidmore.edu, 518.580.5679

Skidmore College and Temple Sinai of Saratoga Springs, NY will host a unique ceremony on April 28 as part of the annual Yom Hashoah – Holocaust Memorial Day.

The event will feature both Michael Kraus, one of the “Birkinau Boys” who survived the concentration camps, and a rare public ceremony featuring a Torah (bible) scroll from Czechoslovakia which also survived the holocaust.

Through its association with Temple Sinai in Saratoga Springs, New York, Skidmore College uses a Czech Holocaust Memorial Torah Scroll from the town of Golcuv-Jenicov for High Holiday services each year. This rare scroll is one of just 1,297 that were rescued from the Nazis, who had confiscated them for use as part of their planned “Museum of the Extinct Jewish Race.” The scrolls were saved after World War II by the Westminster Synagogue in London, which in turn has distributed them to communities around the world as “Czech Memorial Scrolls.” The idea was that even though the places that they came from had been destroyed, there were many congregations around the world that could keep the Torahs as living parts of the Jewish community. Of the Czech Torah scrolls catalogued in London, 466 are in the United States, 61 in Israel, 90 in Great Britain, 16 in Australia, and the remainder span the globe from Argentina to New Zealand. One is in Saratoga Springs, on permanent loan to Temple Sinai on Broadway. Temple Sinai and Skidmore College are privileged to be able to honor the memory of the community of Golcuv-Jenikov and to keep its spirit alive through the continued use of their Torah. After a year of research by a local volunteer who used the internet to trace the history of the scroll, this year’s event will include reading the names and lighting a candle for each of the Jews from Golcuv-Jenikov who never returned to their homes after being deported on June 9, 1942.

The April 28th events are scheduled as follows:

6:30 p.m.

Showing of the documentary film Pilgrimage into the Past

In the summer of 2000, filmmaker Austin de Besche accompanied Holocaust survivor Michael Kraus and his family on a three-day trek through the Austrian countryside. As a boy Kraus and thousands of other prisoners were forced on a "death march" in the waning days of the war, and for a long time Kraus had wanted to walk the route once more.

8:00 p.m.

Gannett Auditorium: Memorial Service with Guest Speaker Michael Kraus

Michael Kraus was one of a group of Jewish children known as the "Birkenau Boys." No one knows why the notorious Dr. Joseph Mengele selected these boys to live while their families, friends, and millions of others died in Nazi death camps. Michael was one of only twenty survivors. Many years after the war one of the survivors, Gerhard Durlacher, traveled the world to talk to those who survived and helped Michael Kraus to reunite with the others. The culmination of the search is the extraordinary reunion of the Boys of Birkenau in Jerusalem in 1990. Later, to deal with their burden, and to honor those who were murdered, the surviving Boys returned to Europe fifty years after their liberation from Auschwitz-Birkenau. Mr. Kraus' experiences are covered in Durlacher's book The Birkenau Boys, and in the films, Lost Childhood: The Story of the Birkenau Boys, The Tragedy of the Holocaust Through the Eyes of Children and Pilgrimage into the Past.

In 2003, The Golcuv-Jenikov scroll was reunited with two holocaust survivors at Temple Sinai in Saratoga Springs. Michael Kraus (top) was featured in a special program at Skidmore College in April, and Henry Silberstern told his story at Temple Sinai in November. Both men were among the “Birkinau Boys” who survived the holocaust. Henry’s grandfather was from Golcuv. Michael said that he had not held a torah in his hands since the war.
